

A typical Day in Japan, where is the skier????

This shot was taken at an amazing resort that is serviced by only one ropeway and has arguably some of the best powder snow on the planet

The Real Japan, with Latitudeski<sup>o</sup>

Let Latitudeski<sup>o</sup> show you the amazing back country, culture, people and powder snow that only Japan has to offer.

Our amazing 2 week journey through the heart land of amazing snow-filled countryside will guide you to a total of six different resorts, all of them offering a completely unique and exciting experience.

Latitudeski<sup>o</sup> caters for ALL levels of skier. You do not need to be a hard core powder hound; this trip is about experience and fun!

And yes, we cater for snowboarders too, begrudgingly :-)

So come on an amazing two week experience and discovery the best Japan has to offer.

Stress Free Skiing

Take the stress out of your ski holiday and let our experienced guides show you around the "secret" spots, not only for the snow, but the restaurants and bars.

We all know how hard it is going to a new resort; especially in a different country. So why not make it easy on yourself and come with Latitudeski<sup>o</sup>. We have skied here many times and know our way around.

Japanese Hospitality

The Japanese people are some of the most polite, respectful, hospitable and friendly people on this planet. Latitudeski<sup>o</sup> will get you out and amongst the locals. Whether it's a cozy little bar, the local karaoke joint or a quaint little restaurant, we will be there. But you must come with an open mind and an adventure—There is nothing more exciting than going into a restaurant where there is no English at all and just pointing at a menu. Who knows what delicacies you may end up with.

The Japanese are the friendliest people on the planet. They love hosting us in their country

The Real Focus of Latitudeski<sup>o</sup>

Fun is what this trip is all about. If you want to sleep in or take a day off, no problem. If you are a beginner and want a few lessons, we will help cater to all of your needs. This trip is not about hard core skiing, but a great adventure filled skiing experience.

And for the hard core skiers, don't worry, you are catered for too! Some of the resorts we go to will guarantee the greatest powder skiing experience available!
